

lets call it no-name
we place it now is w
so it sits on us waiting to tell stories of pneumatic masses
and blood-drained ecologies

come tell me
about the labels and grammar of paper profiles
machine politics
a simulacrum of elements that dont ever hold me

your morning hunger
fulfilled on my balcony
i feel. so i listen.

nothing remains clever
it knows i want cheddar in my wheel fungi infested and loocudd plangent stomps out our vibes til bullets pelletize
in the thick of adipose tissue seldom do i fold

i want to riot so much more than matter

away secrets do you keep your panties does yr tags ever get tipsy talker list it was her dad tell her the truth

you are called to a ritual
white robes spinning
hands feet necks groins
the topic is now waste soul consciousness essence manhood - all the elements you lack
unable to say goodbye
to be blackened tomorrow you make a mess of the sublime nectar for necrophiliacs nooses for niggers
someone else's decision the cast off old memories fluttering behind your new york eyes ginger mechanics why dont you praise my innocence must you free black woman conceal them in your gaze
she cant hinder
will you turn it to me
solemnized object servant
illuminate a refuge
i feel scared for us
weve dampened the silence still im asked to know
still im coerced to know nothing even matters
until there is fire

i pickup
y over pulse
in mdd

remember the conspiracy of black atoms fabulations of seaporkmonstruities.

small in
blood & bone
till ships
clot waves rigid

r eeeeeaaaaa ttt hhhhhh

in ochreigatherthe position lodged
in the sail
and east offland

0.

afferent bursts of that bloody eddy ship me back
to breath

the things and their unbridled parts becoming life-dealers spellbound in parchment (guttered ooo ooo guttred ooo&dis-organ-ized)

we make the best of our nostalgia in the name of radical traditions current quantumsbjust cant grasp what if i do & i die?

at
re
del

fat

l
a
** *

il
e

a
s t
r
**

ex
p er
i
e
n
t
i
o
n

r
e
v
e
l
o
u
t
i
o
n

suddenly

l
o
g
o
s